ED5140: DESIGNING VIRTUAL SCHOOL COURSES

Course Description

This hands-on course provides the pedagogical and technical training to enable participants to design a 4 - 6 session online course for students. Participants are guided through the process of defining course goals, readings, activities, discussion questions, alignment to state and national standards, assessment, and strategies for building a learning community. Participants are introduced to basic theories of online learning and to specific pedagogical approaches for exemplary online curriculum development for the student. Participants also gain the necessary technical expertise to design effectively for the online environment as they work on their own course designs throughout the training course.

Prerequisites

This is a course for members of virtual course design teams, selected by their educational organizations. Participants are expected to have experience with and responsibility for curriculum development within their organizations, regular access to computers, and proficiency with email and current web browsers. Some experience with online learning and/or facilitation is strongly recommended. Participants are also expected to work closely with their team members, if applicable, throughout the course to develop strategies for designing and running virtual courses within their organizations.

Course Requirements

In addition to completing the course readings and activities, students are required to submit a final product to the course instructor via email, with the following three items:

1. Documentation of their active participation in the online course discussion,
2. A realistic plan for delivery of an online workshop, and
3. An evaluation of their learning.

See page 4 of this document for additional details about the course requirements.
